Koalas are animals that live in Australia. Many people call them 'koala bears' but this is not correct. Koalas are not bears. They are marsupials.

Marsupials are animals that have a pouch*, or pocket, where they keep their babies. Mother kangaroos and koalas keep their babies in their pouch for six or seven months.

What do koalas look like?

Koalas have gray and white fur, round ears and a black nose. Adult koalas weigh about 12 kilograms and are about one meter tall.

Where do koalas live?

Koalas come from Australia. The gray areas on the map show where most koalas live.

What do koalas eat?

Koalas only eat the leaves of eucalyptus trees. These leaves are full of water. When koalas eat the leaves, they get most of the water that they need.

How do koalas spend their time?

Koalas sleep for about 18-20 hours each day. They are awake mainly at night, when they spend most of their time eating. Koalas do not live in groups. They prefer to live alone.

How many koalas live in Australia?

In the past, millions of koalas lived in Australia. However, for many years koalas were killed for their fur. Today there are only a few thousand left. Therefore, koalas are a protected species. That means they must not be hurt or killed.

*pouch - جيب

eucalyptus trees – (الكينا)وكالبتوسشجر

protected species - فصائل الحيوانات المحمية
