Koalas are animals that live in Australia. Many people call them 'koala bears' but this is not correct. Koalas are not bears. They are marsupials.

Marsupials are animals that have a pouch*, or pocket, where they keep their babies. Mother kangaroos and koalas keep their babies in their pouch for six or seven months.

Where do koalas live?

Koalas come from Australia. The gray areas on the map show where most koalas live.

What do koalas eat?

Koalas only eat the leaves of eucalyptus trees. These leaves are full of water. When koalas eat the leaves, they get most of the water that they need.

How do koalas spend their time?

Koalas sleep for about 18-20 hours each day. They are awake mainly at night, when they spend most of their time eating. Koalas do not live in groups. They prefer to live alone.

How many koalas live in Australia?

In the past, millions of koalas lived in Australia. However, for many years koalas were killed for their fur. Today there are only a few thousand left. Therefore, koalas are a protected species. That means they must not be hurt or killed.

We can learn a great deal from a piece of writing! The goal is not to see what students do not know, or "cannot do" but rather what they do know. Our goal here is twofold:

a) to see who is willing to tackle a writing task
b) to see who can use writing as a communicative skill

The writing section should be graded very generally.

1) Give up to 5 points if the written answer relates to the assignment.
2) Give up to 5 points if the text is communicative and clear.
3) Give up to 5 points if the majority of the sentences have a subject and a verb.
4) DO not take off points for poor spelling.
5) IF the spelling is excellent, then you can give extra credit.

If one or two sentences are written and the message is clear and relates to the topic give up to 7 points. IF the written sentences are copied exactly from the task, ie the question, no points are to be given.
